ELCA Launch Coach Training

May 29/30, 2019

ADDITIONAL NOTES

Please plan on flying or driving in the day before. If you want to leave the day the coach training ends, make sure that your flight leaves mid to late evening. Participation through the whole event is required by CoachNet Global who provides the materials and stands behind the quality of our training. Participants who come late or leave early will not receive credit for their participation.

Participants in ELCA Launch will be emailed pre-work that needs to be completed before the in-person two day event. There will also be a brief written homework assignment as well as TWO followup coaching calls with the triad you will be placed in to practice your coaching skills.

TRAVEL OPTIONS

AIRPORT RECOMMENDATIONS:

Both Dulles International (IAD) and Reagan National (DCA) airports are roughly equidistant from Lord of Life's Fairfax Campus and both provide you with many good lodging opportunities.

NOT RECOMMENDED! Baltimore Washington International Airport is 45 miles north of Washington, D.C., but because of traffic issues we don't recommend the stress of this location. Costs for airline tickets are sometimes lower, but it's much harder logistically with destinations in the D.C. area.

LODGING OPTIONS

Flying into Dulles International Airport (IAD): I recommend staying in the Fair Oaks district of Fairfax. Seven miles from the Fairfax Campus, it's an easy commute and there are many restaurant options for dinner. There are a plethora of hotels to choose from. Check out Expedia's link HERE.

Flying into Reagan National Airport (DCA): If you are coming from Reagan, I recommend finding hotel arrangements in the Springfield area. They will be roughly seven miles away from the Fairfax Campus. For hotel options click HERE.

COMMUTING:

With enough lead time we can try to connect those who are renting cars with those who need rides. Please communicate with the coach coordinator needs prior to the event and he will do his best to connect needs with options.
